FOR NEXT GOVERNOR OF PENNSYLVANIA

ADJT. GEN. D. H. HASTINGS,

Subject to the decision of the Republican State Convention

EDITORIAL BRIEFS

Sam Jones has a reputation for shrewdness, but he couldn't keep his 17-year-old daughter from eloping.

Two rural men blew out the gas at Bethlehem, this State, Christmas night, and now their souls are with the just, we trust.

Well this is pretty tough on New York. The only monument it had worth talking about, the Statue of Liberty, has been annexed by the State of New Jersey.

Senator Hoar has introduced a bill that all business men would like to see become a law as soon as possible. It provides for a uniform system of bankruptcy throughout the United States.

How much reason is exercised by the Georgia white men in their quarrel with the blacks is shown in their action in taking two black prisoners from jail and murdering them wantonly. This is a specimen of fairness, and justice.

The death of Mrs. George H. Thomas recalls to the memory of the old soldiers and the country at large her distinguished husband, "The Rock of Chickamauga." They leave no descendants. Mrs. Thomas was a worthy wife of a noble husband.

Assistant Postmaster General Clarkson, who has just returned from a visit to his home, in Iowa, says the talk about opposition to the re-election of Senator Allison is all bosh; and that, the republicans of Iowa have never heard of it; except through outside papers.

Senator Cullom has introduced a bill to establish a postal telegraph service. It authorizes the Postmaster General to make a five year contract with any existing telegraph company to transmit messages between free delivery cities. The messages are to be delivered by the regular letter carriers. The price will depend on how good a contract can be made with the telegraph companies.

The Republicans of the State will elect the next governor; it is therefore natural for the rank and file to claim the privilege of naming the candidate. The more aspirants there are the better since it will give the people an opportunity to make a good selection.—Altoona Tribune. Of course, the rank and file will have the privilege of selecting the candidate, and they have already intimated their preference, which is none other than our "Big Dan," the Johnstown hero.

The chief argument for a change of moving day from April 1 to May 1, and one that we used ourselves, is knocked into smithereens by the comparison of the two dates in every year for almost a score of years past which will be found in another column. The generalization to be made from the signal service data quoted on the ubject is that while April 1 is slightly cooler than May 1, it is not subject to s many heavy rain-storms. With this dditional light on the subject April 1 s good enough for us, and we advocate o change.

When will the bloody butchering of the outhern negro cease? Shame on any ivilized government that will sit idly y and tolerate such things within its borders. Not only now has this thing been done, but ever since the close of he war of the rebelion, and it is as bad now as it was then. And what has been done to put a stop to this devilish outrage upon society? Nothing, simply nothing! A war of suppression should e waged, not as now waged against the negro, but against the negro-killer unil there was not one such bruit—they re not men—left to bravely boast of his cowardly exploits.

THE REVOLUTION IN BRAZIL.

We clip the following from the "Rio de Janeiro, Nov. 18th, a copy of which was received by a gentleman in our town a day or two since, to whom we extend our thanks.

"As for causes which have led to this sweeping out extraordinary revolution, this sudden collapse of an empire which feared nothing one short week ago, and this unexpected triumph of the Republicans who were so overwhelmingly defeated only ten weeks ago, a thorough review of Brazilian history since the organization of the empire must be employed to determine their character and influence. These causes have been institutional as well as personal. The constitution was the result of violence and the creation of an unbalanced intellect and arbitrary will. The institutions founded under this instrument were not of the character required to promote sound patriotism and general prosperity among the people. The whole history of the two reigns has been filled with petty contentions and the settlement of discontent through the distribution of imperial favors. D. Pedro II has been an exceptionally amiable and well-meaning ruler, but his rule has lacked vigor and frankness. He has weakened the national character by the too frequent employment of weak men to administer his government, men who preferred to postpone difficulties and shirk responsibilities rather than take the risks of defeat. Desiring all for the good of his country, he has accomplished so little that Brazil to-day has nearly all her great administrative and economic problems still to solve. The bane of temporizing in the face of an emergency has run through her whole political life, and was the prime source of weakness when the crisis came. We can not find the record of one public man who had a suggestion of vigorous resistance to offer.

The Emperor has been surrounded all his life by sycophants and courtiers and temporizing advisers, but when the need of a true friend came, one with a clear head and strong hand, there was not one to be found. It is a matter for congratulation that no lives have been sacrificed and no property destroyed, and it is a cause for gratification that the revolutionary government has generously provided for his support in exile, but we have no word of commendation for a people who can change their principles and institutions in a moment without protest or thought of resistance. Men of character do not change their sentiments, habits and principles as they change their coats, nor do they yield that which is revered and dear to them without a struggle. There are things in this life whose preservation is worth the shedding of one's blood, the sacrifice of peace and everything a man holds dear, and we could entertain a much higher respect for the men who declare themselves monarchists if they had shown some sign of such a spirit. The die, however, has been cast and the revolution has triumphed. The new men are to be congratulated that bloodshed has been avoided and that the way is fully open to them for the reorganization of the country under the new system proposed. It is to be hoped that they will hasten the settlement of affairs in the interests of industry and commerce, and that they will use liberally and wisely the great power seized by them for the better progress and security of the country."

The death of State Geologist Ashburner makes another vacancy for Governor Beaver to fill by appointment. No preceding Governor of Pennsylvania has ever been called upon to fill so many vacancies caused by death. The present executive has twice appointed State Treasurers, one Auditor General, half a dozen Common Pleas Judges, and now has vacancies to fill in offices of Superintendent of Public Instruction, Major General of the National Guard, and State Geologist. The mortality among State officials has been unprecedented during the past three years.

Senator Ingalls doesn't want the present census, or rather that of 1890 to be a repetition of the last one, which was notoriously inaccurate, and by the way all of the tomes of misinformation, as Mr. Ingalls termed the reports, have not yet been printed. Senator Hale promises that the eleventh census shall be much more prompt than was the tenth.

THE FARMER AND PROTECTION.

The American farmer, although he cultivates the most fertile soil in the world, and ought to be the most prosperous member of the community, is constantly engaged in a hard struggle to secure a comfortable support for his family and a moderate education for his children, and to pay his taxes and keep out of debt. This is all he can reasonably hope to accomplish; in a large majority of cases he fails even to do this, and sooner or later is compelled to sell or mortgage his land and reduce his expenditures to the lowest possible figure. He has a paternal government which has determined that certain classes of industry ought to be maintained at the public expense and for thirty years he has been taxed for their support; and now after these favored industries have become rich and powerful, they combine and confederate under the names of trusts, syndicates and pools, and dictate the terms upon which the people may procure the necessaries of life and carry on their business. Under our system of taxation, the farmer is almost without the semblance of power to protect his own interests. The manufacturers can forsee with almost absolute certainty what the quantitity of their product will be upon the employment of any given number of hands, and, therefore, they can combine whenever they choose to limit production and increase prices; but the farmer's crop depends almost entirely upon the character of the season he may have, and he cannot decide in advance how much he must plant in order to furnish a supply that will not be in excess of the demand.

Notwithstanding these and many other disadvantages under which the farmer labors, and which no act of Congress can remove, Senator Cullom thinks protection has been more beneficial to him than to any one else, and he refers to "the great improvement in the material welfare of the farming and country people" during the last thirty or forty years, to justify his opinion. "All this comfort and general improvement" he attribues to protection. It would be far more reasonable to conclude that if they had been exempt from this heavy taxation and permitted to expend their money for the improvement of their own property and the education of their children, there would be fewer mortgages upon their land, and a greater degree of comfort and prosperity among the farmers and country people.—by J. G. Carlisle in the annary Forum.

A FAITHFUL OFFICER.

Not for a long time has there any man filled the office of High Sheriff of Centre county so faithfully, so conscientiously and so with an eye single to the good and welfare of his constituents as has the present incumbent, Sheriff Cooke. Always courteous and obliging in the transaction of business, always faithful and impartial in the discharge of his duties he has won the admiration and esteem of all with whom he has come in contact. The record of his administration stands No. 1 in every respect.

A few weeks ago when a leading attorney attempted to impeach his conduct towards prisoners under his charge, he was wisely and well sustained by the Court in the fact that during his entire administration in office he had never on any former occasion been called on the witness stand to testify or give evidence in the case of any prisoner. His record in that respect, as well as all others, was unimpeachable.

In the keeping of the jail he is to be congratulated by all citizens of Centre county, irrespective of politics, for the respectable condition in which it is always to be found. No lice or bugs there; no filth or unbearable dirt, either; but everything and everywhere is clean, wholesome and respectable. This is undeniably proven by the universally good health that at all times prevail there. Sheriff Cooke is a model official; a man from whom some of his democratic predecessors could well take pattern and envy in bitterness of heart and soul,

With the beginning of the new year a movement will be inaugurated to rid the Connellsville coke region of the foreign labor that now almost make up the total population of that region and who have become very undesirable. Hope they will succeed.

THE OLD YEAR.

The year 1889, which came to an end Tuesday, was an uneventful one, so far as the political world was concerned. Europe was remarkably free from changes, its several nations occupying about the same relations to each other that they did a year ago. The French republic still exists and the spectre of Boulangism has well-nigh faded from the political horizon. Germany continues the leader of Europe and Bismarck is the director of German policy. The tories are yet in power in Great Britain, though they have lost ground during the year and the attempt to destroy Mr. Parnell proved a boomerang to its inventors. As for Russia, Austria, Italy, Spain and the other nations of the continent, they have had peace at home and abroad. The year closes with rumors of restlessness in Portugal that may lead to the overthrow of the government and the establishment of a republic, and should this happen the baby king of Spain is likely to be dethroned and the entire Iberian peninsula given over to temporary republican rule.

Asia has shared the general political calm of Europe. The shah of Persia is said to be on the eve of introducing certain liberal ideas into his dominions, the result of his recent tour of Europe, there are rumors of impending revolutions in China, while Japan continues to make rapid advance in civilization. The wonderful explorations of Mr. Stanley in Africa will form an important feature of the year's history though the year 1890 will be well advanced before the people have been put in possession of the knowledge gathered by the intrepid explorer during his last journey in the heart of the "Dark Continent." In the meantime the nations of Europe are rapidly apportioning the land between them without asking permission of its original owners, and civilization will advance in Africa as it has elsewhere, by dispossessing the aborigines and cutting their throats as if they undertake to resist destiny. At present two of the land-robbers—Great Britain and Portugal— are threatening to quarrel with each other over their respective thefts, but as Portugal is one of the feeblest of nations no blood is likely to be shed.

In the United States political matters have been quiet. A misfortune of the year has been the reverse sustained by the cause of temperance in many of the states, but those who advocate the right can afford to exercise large patience and unfaltering hope, remembering that He who is for them is more than they which be against them, and that the rum traffic, like the slave trade, is doomed. The weather of the year has been phenomenal. Commencing with the heavy rainfall which resulted in the appalling calamity at Johnstown on the 31st of May, we have had a rainfall without precedent in the history of the country, and up to the present moment there has been no winter. Yet the year has been a good one for the farmer and the manufacturer. The crops were large, all our industries are thriving, and nearly every man who wants work can find it. As one evidence of the unusual prosperity of the country the pressure upon our railroads may be recalled. During several weeks of the autumn months the principal railroad lines were absolutely blockaded by the demands upon them, and at no period in their history was traffic so great.

The worst feature of 1889 was its weather but we are permitted to indulge the hope that the new year will bring us something in that line much better, and it will be enjoyed all the more for the contrast. While the floods, the fires, the appalling calamities which destroyed so many human lives and trailed a bloody line along the successive months produce a feeling of sadness which will ever be associated with this remarkable year, still it contained so much of general and individual prosperity that few come to its end without abundant reason for thankfulness. As we close the volume and turn to open the first page of the year 1890, let us do so with gratitude for such blessings as we have received and with fortitude for the unknown but fast ripening events of the future.

A Good Montana Story.

A Daily News reporter was present in a prominent lawyer's office in this place on Saturday night when the following good and true incident regarding the Montana election was told by a Lieutenant of the regular army whose command is stationed in that country but who, himself, is now east on a short furlough.

It was just the week prior to the late election in that newly made State and, of course, both parties were eager to win in the first battle. In one county where there was a small republican majority and where the leading democratic candidate was a large mining operator, the idea was conceived to transport to the county, ostensibly to work in the mines, about two hundred foreigners, naturalize them and vote them on their naturalization papers.

Accordingly such was done and on the Wednesday before the election two hundred naturalization papers were sworn out in favor of so many Italians. The latter proved to be an ignorant batch of foreigners, not being able to talk or comprehend our language. The "bosses," however, taught them the meaning and the purport of the one sentence "I am a Democrat," which it was necessary for them to be able to say in order to be able to vote.

Each and every one was given his naturalization paper and strongly adjured as to his duty, and the managers of the affair felt secure in a contemplated victory. What was their consternation, then, on election evening to find themselves beaten by a small majority because the Italians had no naturalization papers. This seemed queer and inquiry was made which revealed the fact that about seventy-five of the number had presented their papers at the bank on Saturday evening for payment, under the supposition that they were time checks, and the cashier, an astute republican, had obligingly cashed the whole batch of them and thus outwitted the democrats.

—Among the most valuable exchanges that come to this office is just the Pittsburg Dispatch. It is always brimfull of the very latest news which is given in a way that not only informs but interests and attracts. There can always be found in its pages a full and complete epitome of all the goings on, not only in this part of the world but also in all foreign countries. The growth of the Sunday edition of the Dispatch has been remarkable, almost miraculous, during the past year. It now has a bona fide circulation of over 50,000. The reason for this remarkable growth is because of the choice literary matter selected for its columns. Its Sunday issue now consists of twenty pages filled with contributions from the best writers. The marvelous growth of this paper has rendered it necessary to increase its publishing facilities and a new Hoe perfecting press will soon be put in. This will make it one of the best equipped offices in the State. The Dispatch now stands in the foremost rank of newspapers published in the United States, and we wish it continued success.

From the present expressed sentiments of leading Senators and Congressman it is likely that the Reform Pension bill will produce considerable of a stir this session in Congress. Already the democratic members have expressed themselves as stubbornly opposed to any measure that will in any way change the present pension laws, while on the other hand the republican side of the house favors reform. It is more than likely, however, that the "old soldier" will be taken care of.

The free trade members of the House Ways and Means Committee, who are forced to listen day after day to the continued emphatic arguments of sturdy friends of protection in behalf of the great system that has made this nation, industrially speaking, what it is to-day, cannot be altogether happy. They really deserve a little pity.

HIGHER DUTIES URGED

The Hearings Before the Ways and Means Committee.

TALKING FOR A TARIFF.

Manufacturers in Different Branches of Industry Appeal for Increased Rates on the Various Articles Which They Are Constructing.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—The ways and means committee was called to order promptly at 10 o'clock by Chairman McKinley.

Mr. C. S. Landers, of New Britain, Conn., opened the hearing. He addressed the committee on the subject of table cutlery and advocated the advance of tariff rates on these articles.

Mr. Charles Brice, representing the gold and silver beaters of the United States, made an appeal in their behalf for a higher duty on these products.

A Trenton Manufacturer's Plea.

Mr. Clark Fisher, of Trenton, N. J., a manufacturer of anvils, next addressed the committee. He stated that the low rate of duty had driven all the anvil manufacturers out of the business with the exception of himself. Two-thirds of the anvils used in the United States, he said, were imported, and he asked to have the duty on these articles restored to the rate prevailing before 1883.

The Tin Plate Industry.

Mr. W. C. Cronemeyer, a manufacturer of tin and iron plates, explained to the committee the methods and cost of manufacturing tin plates.

Tin plates, he said, were not manufactured in this country at present; but with a duty on these goods to protect the home manufacturer they could be made and sold as low, if not lower, than at present.

Mr. William Metcalf, of Pittsburg, a steel manufacturer, spoke of the condition and prospects of that business. By American competition, he said, the price of steel had been reduced 50 per cent. The wages of the laborer engaged in this business were much higher than those of like laborers in other countries.

The Wire Rod Industry.

Mr. George F. Oliver next addressed the committee in behalf of the wire rod industry, including wire reds, wire nails and barb wire for fencing purposes. He described the growth of the business and asked that no reduction be made in the duty on these articles, as the supply was able to meet the demand, and stated that if the tariff was reduced the price to the consumer would have to be advanced, and that if the provisions proposed by the senate tariff of last session be carried out they would be well satisfied. A. B. Campbell, of West Virginia, an extensive nail manufacturer, was the next speaker. He was examined as to the condition of this business, etc., and urged that the duty proposed by the senate tariff bill be adopted.

To Study Yellow Fever.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—Surgeon Gen. Hamilton, of the Marine Hospital service, has left Washington on a trip to Havana, Cuba. He will be joined at Charleston, S. C., by Dr. Wilkinson, president of the Louisiana board of health, and Dr. Horlbeck, secretary of the Charleston board of health. The party will visit the Key West quarantine station on Tortugas Keys, Tampa, Jacksonville, Sandford and other places on the way. They expect to be absent a week or ten days.

Called from the Marine Congress.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—August Schneider, one of the delegates to the international marine conference from Denmark, has informed Admiral Franklin, president of the conference, that he will not be able to attend the further sittings of the conference. He is in charge of the tonnage and registry department at Copenhagen, and is obliged to leave for home to attend to his official duties.

A Youthful Band of Robbers.

BOSTON, Dec. 28.—James McDavitt, Daniel McDonough, Charles Palmer, John Hurling, Michael Rossi, Henry Marsh, Columbus Curvin and Thomas McGlinchy, ragged urchins, ranging in age from 9 to 13 years, have been arrested for stealing $40 worth of tobacco and candy from the store of George Coon, No. 148 Atlantic avenue, on Christmas day. They had recently organized as a band of robbers, and had bound themselves by blood curdling oaths to stand or fall together, which obligation they construed so severely that two of their number who might have escaped arrest were forcibly prevented by their comrades from doing so.

Banking in Mexico.

CITY OF MEXICO, via Galveston, Dec. 28.—The new bank, Fomento Concession, is reported in danger of falling through. The authorized capital is $25,000,000, about one-fifth being paid in at the start. The International and Mortgage bank will open in a few days. The National Bank of Mexico has declared a dividend of 6 per cent. on account of the current year's profits, but will probably declare 9 per cent. additional later on. The London bank will declare even a better dividend on account of the business transacted during the first year of its operation under its new organization.

Testing the Machinery of Execution.

SING SING, N. Y., Dec. 28.—The electrical execution machines were tested at the prison by a committee of experts for the state. When the dynamos were run at less than their ordinary number of revolutions per minute the electrical pressure was found to exceed 1,600 volts instead of being only 1,000. At 300 revolutions a minute it was estimated that the pressure would be more than 2,000 volts. Next week the committee will make tests of the dynamos at Auburn and Clinton prisons.

Jake Gaudaur's Challenge.

BOSTON, Dec. 28.—Jake Gaudaur writes to The Herald declining to row at Point of Pines, as the condition of the water there is unfavorable to him, but says he will row either Hanlan or Teemer on Lake Quinsigamond for $1,000 a side, any time before July 4, or will make a race with both. If they don't care to accept this proposition, he says, he will row O'Connor.

The Czar Improving.

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 28.—The czar is making favorable progress toward recovery from his attack of influenza. He has not at any time been in a critical condition, and no fears have been felt as to the outcome of his illness.

Murdered by the Harrad Family.

ALBANY, Mo., Dec. 28.—A farmer named Barney Fallis was killed here by Silas Harrad and his two sons in a dispute over the sale of a farm. Harrad and his sons have been arrested and jailed.

MARRIED BUT NOT MATED.

Mr. Cumming Deserts His Bride After Two Years of Silence.

BUFFALO, Dec. 28.—A marriage which took place under somewhat romantic circumstances in this city two years ago has just been made public by friends of the bride, who has been deserted by her husband. On July 28, 1889, Robert C. Cumming, of Fredonia, and Juvia Louise Kennedy, of South Dayton, were married here by the Rev. Henry Ward. The Cumming family are among the first people of Fredonia, and Miss Kennedy's family are well-to-do people. At the time of the wedding Mr. Cumming was 19 years of age and his bride 18. He was about to enter Cornell university, and at his solicitation the marriage was kept a secret, as he feared his father's anger. He graduated last summer and has been practicing law at Ithaca.

After considerable urging on the part of his bride he recently agreed to meet her here and announce their relations as man and wife. On Monday last she received a letter from Mr. Cumming, written at New York, in which he said he wished to have no more to do with the matter, and should avoid any more complications by going to Mexico. Mrs. Cumming's friends then decided upon making the marriage known. The record of the ceremony has been preserved, and the wife will claim her rights.

Jumped at the Wrong Time.

CHICAGO, Dec. 28.—Joseph Newman, of 4306 Wood street, was killed and Ernest Lomberg, of 390 North avenue, severely injured by an engine on the Louisville, New Albany and Chicago tracks at Archer avenue shortly after 6 o'clock. A street car, loaded to its fullest capacity, was proceeding west on Archer avenue. As they went over the crossing a switch engine approached at ordinary speed. Newman and Lomberg, who were riding on the rear platform, imagined the car to be in danger of being struck and jumped off, falling to the ground on the crossing. Before they could recover their footing the engine was upon them. The street car narrowly escaped being struck. Seven fatal accidents occurred at railroad crossings in this city during twenty-four hours.

Highbinders in San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 28.—Two men were killed in Chinatown by highbinders. Ung Hing was waylaid and shot by three men just as he was entering the Chinese theatre, and doctors say he cannot survive. The police have identified Mok Lem as one of the assailants and say the attack was due to a recent assault on Lem, in which Hing was implicated. Lem escaped injury, but his clothes were full of bullet holes. The other crime was the murder of Tick Ho Hong. Tick had the bad taste to dun a Chinaman who owed him money, and the debtor refused to pay and hired highbinders to slaughter Tick. The work was done in thorough style, Tick being stabbed several times, from the effects of which he died.

Professor Fox Dead.

EASTON, Pa., Dec. 28.—Joseph G. Fox, A. M., professor of civil topographical engineering at Lafayette college, died suddenly of paralysis. He had held the position since 1872. For ten years prior to that he was engaged in teaching in Cooper Institute, New York, and in the University of New York. He was engineer of the Sixth brigade, Second division, New York State Guard, on Gen. Hamilton's staff in 1863-64. Professor Fox was in his fifty-seventh year, and was widely known in the educational world.

Adjudged Insane.

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—James Smith, the letter carrier who shot and killed his two children, Elizabeth and Mary, aged 2 years and 11 months respectively, on Nov. 22 last, was placed on trial before Judge Gildersleeve. The defense was insanity. Several medical experts declared that the patient was insane from melancholia. The jury adjudged him insane, and he was committed to the insane asylum at Poughkeepsie.

Mrs. Davis Will Wait a Year.

RICHMOND, Va., Dec. 28.—Mayor Ellison, of this city, has received a letter from Mrs. Jefferson Davis in reply to a request that the body of her husband might be buried here, in which Mrs. Davis says that so many of the southern states have put forth claims so strong that she is unable to decide where the remains shall rest, and has decided to wait a year before making a selection.

A Druggist's Fatal Error.

AGAINST MOUSSA BEY.

The Charges Brought by American Missionaries.

OUTRAGEOUS ASSAULTS.

One of the Missionaries Said to Have Had His Nose Sliced Off—The Defense Will Be That Missionaries Are Too Meddlesome.

LONDON, Dec. 28.—Though there is no doubt that the Messrs. Knapp and Robinson, the two American missionaries who have brought charges of outrageous assault against Moussa Bey, have abundant grounds for their accusation, the opinion is generally prevalent that they have taken a big contract to prove their case in a Turkish court, even with the assistance of the American and British diplomatic representatives at the Porte. With their case already weakened by religious prejudice, it is surmised that the unsupported testimony of the two gentlemen will have little or no weight against the swarm of witnesses who, although it is probable they were not in Armenia when the alleged outrages took place, and perhaps were never there, may be depended upon to swear to anything and everything except the truth.

Moussa Bey's Defense.

Then, too, the defense will probably be set up that the reverend gentlemen were themselves the aggressors in having interfered in matters which did not concern them, and were merely prevented from further interference by the mildest means consistent with the violence of their pragmatical bent. Already it is asserted, as if to prepare the public mind for the line of defense to be pursued, that the missionaries had taken advantage of the privileges accorded to them, as it must be said that missionaries have too often done in Armenia and many other countries, to incite the Christians to disobedience of the laws and customs and defiance of the authorities. This contention being made, it will be held by the Turkish officials that if any outrages were committed, which is not to be admitted, they were simply incidental to the official action restraining the two gentlemen from further attempts to usurp the functions of government.

Missionaries Are Frequently Meddlesome.

Messrs. Knapp and Robinson may be innocent of this accusation, and probably are; but it is a matter of record that gentlemen of their calling too frequently combine the meddlesome zeal of Paul Pry with their single duty of propagating the Christian faith, and exhibit a marvelous readiness to complain if they are promptly and very properly sat upon. Apropos of the Turkish assertion that the gentlemen were given to poking their noses into the affairs of other people, it will be noted that one of them, Mr. Robinson, is reported to have had his nose sliced off.

Praise for American Missionaries.

It is proper to say that all accounts agree that a more worthy, self sacrificing and conscientious body of men than that comprising the great army of missionaries sent from America to foreign lands can be recruited from no other country on the globe. But it is also proper to say that there are a few among them whose connection with Christian teaching, in any capacity, is as disgraceful as would be the appearance of an archbishop or a cardinal in the prize ring, and who bring a great body of zealous Christian workers into undeserved ridicule and contempt.

SALISBURY'S ATTITUDE.

It Is Believed That There Is Serious Difficulty at Hand.

LONDON, Dec. 28.—The order which has been issued by the British foreign office that four of the men-of-war stationed at Malta shall proceed to Lisbon, has excited a good deal of comment in naval and military circles here. The reason of the surprise expressed is that Lisbon is not within the cruising limits of any vessels of the Mediterranean squadron.

The inference drawn from orders to these four to go beyond their ordinary sphere of action very naturally is that the diplomatic correspondence which has passed recently between Lord Salisbury and Senhor Gomes, concerning the Portuguese attitude in Africa, has taken an unfavorable turn, and that serious difficulty is at hand between the two nations. It is even reported that the British government has received news to the effect that Maj. Serpa Pinto has already executed his threat to conquer the whole of Nyassaland.

The Lisbon official journal, The Dia, in a copy which is just at hand, says that Consul Johnson, who is now at Lake Tanganyika, has demanded the submission of the natives of the interior, near the German establishments on the shores of the lake.

The Pope to Dom Carlos.

LISBON, Dec. 28.—The pope has sent an autograph letter to Dom Carlos congratulating him upon his accession to the throne. The decree prolonging the military dictatorship in Brazil for a year has dismayed the Portuguese Republicans, and a decided reaction in favor of the monarchy has ensued. The formal accession of the king will therefore take place under much more favorable circumstances than people expected.

To Fortify Batoum.

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 28.—Orders have been issued by the minister of war, Gen. Vannovski, to push the work of constructing detached forts around Batoum. It has been decided to expend in the erection of military works the 2,000,000 roubles appropriated for the enlarging of the port of Batoum.

A Governmental Trust.

Maryland's Incoming Legislature.

BALTIMORE, Dec. 28.—The officers of the next legislature have practically been decided upon. Mr. John E. Hubner, of Baltimore county, will be elected speaker of the house, and Senator Robert Brattan, of Somerset county, president of the senate. There will be a contest over the United States senatorship. The friends of Governor Jackson are pushing the governor's claim, but Senator Wilson will probably succeed himself.

Fell with a Scaffold.

BALTIMORE, Dec. 28.—The scaffolding at the new building on South street of the First National bank gave way and precipitated Foreman William Devine and Bricklayers William Denby and Thomas Elliott fifty feet to the ground floor. Denby is so badly injured internally and on the head that his death is expected momentarily. Devine and Elliott are also quite seriously hurt.

South Dakota's Great Gas Well.

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Dec. 28.—Natural gas has been discovered at Redfield, in Spink county. The find is the strongest yet struck in the state, and its quality is of the best. The discovery was made by parties digging for water. The pressure is so great that it carries sand and gravel sixty feet into the air. This is the fourth discovery of the kind made in South Dakota within sixty days.

Slavin Gets the Stakes.

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—A special cablegram to The Police Gazette, from London, states that Smith's backer has handed over to Slavin the entire stakes of the recent fight. Slavin bears no marks of punishment about the head except that one eye is slightly discolored, and there is a scratch on one ear.

HERR MOST'S RIVAL.

Anarchists Will Assess Themselves to Establish an Organ.

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—Representatives of fifty anarchistic trade unions from Baltimore, Newark, Cincinnati, Denver, Chicago, Boston, Philadelphia and this city have been in session in an upper hall of the Essex Market building for the past two days, and after a lengthy powwow it has been decided to establish a paper with avowed Anarchistic principles.

Its name has not yet been decided upon, in fact, nothing beyond the announcement of its birth has been made, but the members of the different Anarchist trade unions are to be assessed $1 each, and the fund thus raised will be used to run the paper.

When the journal is started orators are to be sent forth among the workmen to preach anarchistic doctrines, and many recruits are expected to be enrolled.

Delegate Trinsky, of the Choral union, of this city, is most active in the new enterprise. He says that every Socialist, from the mildest to the most hot headed Anarchist, will be given a chance to be heard.

After a long discussion it was decided to establish a central council, appointed by secret session, who will settle upon some general plan for members to work upon. The meeting room, which is upon the second floor of the Essex Market building, was decorated with pictures of the Chicago Anarchists who were hung, Mrs. Parsons and Louise Michel, while red flags and revolutionary mottoes flourish on the walls.

The Scheme Didn't Work.

BUTTE, Mon., Dec 28.—W. A. Clark, one of the wealthiest men in this city, a few days ago received a letter signed by "Nineteen Determined and Desperate Men," demanding that he have ready for them on Dec. 24 $400,000, and adding that failure to do so would result in death. Tuesday afternoon George Stackpole, a 19-year-old tough, called for the package. He was locked up. He says that he was paid $10 by an unknown man to carry the note and was to meet him him just outside of the city. It is believed that Stackpole is implicated in the scheme, if not the originator of it.

Woburn Fight Still On.

WOBURN, Mass., Dec. 28.—At a second conference between representatives of the Leather Manufacturers' association and the Knights of Labor the manufacturers rejected all propositions submitted by the knights, but were willing to sign an agreement to pay their own price list for two years and not to discriminate against Knights of Labor in hiring their help. At a meeting of the workmen a vote was taken, resulting in the rejection of the manufacturers' proposition by 115 to 17. This action indicates a prolonged and stubborn fight.

Theatre Panic at Pittsburg.

PITTSBURG, Dec. 28.—At 9 o'clock last night a fire of unknown origin started in the cellar under the Casino museum on Fifth avenue, near Wood street. Two alarms were turned in, and the fire and police departments were quickly at the scene. There were about 400 people inside of the building at the time, and although intensely excited, they were all safely removed with the exception of a few, who were bruised by being trampled upon. None, however, received, serious injury. The damage to the building was small and is fully covered by insurance.

The Little Ferry Disaster.

LITTLE FERRY, N. J., Dec. 28.—At the coroner's inquest in the case of the Little Ferry disaster the jury rendered a verdict that Engineer Nixon, with his brakeman and fireman, came to their death by his failing to comply with the rules of the company in not slowing up his engine on approaching the Little Ferry drawbridge. The jury also censured the railroad company in not having proper signals displayed at a distance of not less than 1,500 feet from the bridge, instead of 600, as at present.

Still After the Breweries.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Dec. 28.—Col. S. F. Scott and Daniel Watney, president of the Watney Brewing company, of London, are negotiating for the purchase of one or more Kansas City breweries. It is said upon good authority that they made an offer of $1,150,000 for the J. J. Heim brewery, and deposited $65,000 in a local bank to clinch the bargain should Mr. Heim accept. The owners of the breweries here have entered into an agreement not to sell their plants under certain stated sums.

ALL QUIET AT JESSUP.

But Citizens Are Not Satisfied That the End Has Come.

SCOURGING THE NEGROES.

The Jail Broken Into and Two Prisoners Riddled with Bullets—Others Whipped and Driven from Town—Citizens Organize.

JESSUP, Ga., Dec. 28.—The first thrill of terror has passed away, the fever of deadly excitement is cooled and matters are quieting down in riot riven Jessup. The number of blacks that have been killed will be a matter of conjecture for some time, and, without doubt, will still further be augmented before the affair really resolves into anything like permanent quiet. There is a grim determination among the armed men now in this vicinity, and nothing short of the death of the negro desperado Bob Brewer will satisfy them. Brewer is still a fugitive, and the trouble he caused has fallen heavily upon his people.

Scourging the Negroes.

The jail was broken into early in the morning and two negro prisoners riddled with bullets. Another negro was found at home shot in the heart, and one with a flesh wound in the shoulder. It was reported others had been killed, but officers have not found them. A search for bodies is still kept up. The negroes are quitting their homes and moving to other towns on the line of the railroad. A large number of negroes were taken from their homes this morning and whipped. A crowd of white men went to several houses and compelled the negroes to leave. They punished some of them. The hussars have started for Savannah, but the infantry company of Brunswick will remain.

Citizens Organized.

Citizens have been organized into patrol and picket parties, and there is every preparation for desperate battle, in case it should be precipitated by outlaws.

The fact that the negroes have sent their women and children out of town is deemed evidence that a movement is contemplated by the mass of blacks, and this, it is felt, would bring the final struggle between the races in the affected neighborhood.

The trouble has brought out the very worst elements in the lower class of negroes, of whom many are employed in the turpentine distilleries and sawmills about Jessup, and even if the expected battle has not or does not come the region will be in a disturbed state, and its laboring forces disorganized for some days.

Turbulent Negresses.

Several shots were fired by the pickets last night, one of them bringing down a negro who was seen to sneak out of the swamp and who was believed to be a messenger or spy from the outlaw gang.

The negro women were scarcely less violent in their demonstrations than the men, and it was this fact which, with the high feeling already existing, led to the severe horsewhipping by a party of white men of Sallie Hopper and other females, who openly rejoiced at the killing of Marshal Barnhill.

Sallie's Prophecy.

Sallie had prophesied a few days before the trouble that Barnhill would not live long, and her 18-year-old boy, since shot by the mob which attacked the jail, was among the first negro fighters captured.

The number of negroes thus far killed is said to be ten, but names of only three are given.

The white dead are but two—Deputy Marshal Barnhill and the station agent, William Wood, Jr.

There Has Been No Massacre.

FORT SULLY, S. D., Dec. 28.—Reports of a massacre of settlers in the vicinity are unfounded. Squatters have been moving upon the reservation in the lowlands along the Missouri, and the Cheyenne Sioux have made ugly threats, but the whites have not been molested. There are four companies of the Twelfth United States infantry here who are able to quell any outbreak in a few hours.

A REMARKABLE

A Locomotive Plows Through a Sleeper Without Fatal Results.

PITTSBURG, Dec. 28.—The second section of the Cincinnati express on the Pan Handle railroad ran into and telescoped the first section of the train twenty-five miles west of here.

The engine plowed its way through almost the entire length of a Pullman sleeping car, throwing the passengers in their berths to either side. By extraordinary good fortune, however, none of them sustained more than slight injuries. The car was entirely wrecked and the rest of the train badly shaken up.

C. H. Lee, of Richmond, Ind., a clerk on the postal car, was quite seriously cut and bruised, but with this exception everybody on the train escaped with only a severe shaking up.

Two Convicts' Clever Escape.

BOSTON, Dec. 28.—Frank Ritchie, aged 27, and Thomas Conaty, aged 20, recently sentenced to seventeen years' imprisonment for breaking into and robbing James Coon's factory at Long Meadow and attempting to kill the proprietor, escaped from the state prison at Charlestown about 8 o'clock last evening. A block of granite 14x12 inches had been removed from the ceiling of Ritchie's cell, and the hole cleverly concealed by a piece of pasteboard. On returning from chapel school Conaty, whose cell was opposite Ritchie's, managed to step into Ritchie's cell unobserved, and both men quietly climbed into the ventilator and crawled up to the roof carrying with them a rope, which they attached to the chimney. They then had no difficulty in dropping to the street and walking away.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

Old clothing may be made to look nearly as good as new by pursuing the following plan:

Take for instance a shiny old coat, vest or pair of pants of broadcloth, cassimere or diagonal. The scourer makes a strong, warm soapsuds and plunges the garment into it, souses it up and down, rubs the dirty places, if necessary puts it through several waters, and hangs it to dry on the line. When nearly dry he takes it in, rolls it up for an hour or two, and then presses it. An old cotton cloth is laid on the outside of the coat, and the iron passed over that until the wrinkles are out; but the iron is removed before the steam ceases to rise from the goods, else they would be shiny. Wrinkles that are obstinate are removed by laying a wet cloth over them, and passing the iron over that. If any shining places are seen, they are treated as the wrinkles are; the iron is lifted, while the full cloud of steam rises, and brings the nap up with it. Good cloth will bear many washings, and look better every time because of them.

In speaking of the many ways in which tomatoes can be cooked an old housekeeper gives her verdict in favor of boiling water. Now I imagine I hear some one say, "Boil them! Why, all the juice will run out and they will be pap!" But they will not be anything of the sort. Select good firm tomatoes; drop them into a pail or pot of hot water and boil them the same as you would boil potatoes with their "jackets" on. The length of time, of course, will depend somewhat on the size of the fruit and the quickness of the fire.

When they have been boiling for about five minutes, try them with a fork. If they are soft all the way through they are done. Lift out, peel the skin off, add butter, pepper and salt. If you have any doubt on the subject, all I have to say is, try it for yourself and see.

To keep the ceilings clean, put a tack on each side of the room near the ceiling, on which the flies will alight. The Chandeliers and pictures frames, if rubbed occasionally with oil of lavender will be free of them.

Domestic Hints.

RAISED CAKE.

Two cups sugar, two cups dough, three-fourths cup butter, one cup of raisins, one egg, half teaspoonful soda, nutmeg, cinnamon. Add more flour if the dough is too thin.

LEMON PIE.

One cup sugar, half cup butter, stir well together; three eggs, one cup molasses, one cup sour cream, one teaspoonful soda, one teaspoonful cloves, nutmeg and cinnamon, two and one-half cups flour.

MUTTON POT-PIE.

Cut most of the meat from three or four pounds of the less shapely parts of your mutton, and put the bones over in plenty of cold water; then cut the meat in thick slices and these in inch squares, Cut also half a pound of salt pork in thin strips about two inches long by half an inch wide. Add a small onion with two cloves stuck in it, and simmer the whole for an hour longer until the meat is quite tender. Have your crust ready, prepared as for chicken pot-pie, drop it in with a handful of chopped parsley or a little thyme, and boil until the crust is done. Roll three or four milk crackers, and add this powdered cracker to a cup of sweet cream. Take up the meat and crust, then drop this in, and let it come to a boil and pour over.

CHRISTMAS DOUGHNUTS.

One cupful of white sugar, two eggs, three tablespoons of butter, one cupful of new milk, one teaspoonful of cream of tartar, three-fourths of a teaspoonful of saleratus, a pinch of grated nutmeg, one-half teaspoonful salt and flour to roll. Cream the butter and sugar, add the eggs and beat well, stir in the milk and mix with the flour in which the soda and cream of tartar have been sifted. Cut in rings and fry in hot lard.

CHARLOTTE RUSSE.

Split ten lady fingers and arrange them in a mold. Dissolve one-third of a box gelatine in a pint of rich milk. A LADY'S PERFECT COMPANION.

PAINLESS CHILDBIRTH, a new book by Dr. John H. Dye, one of New York's most skillful physicians, shows that pain is not necessary in Childberth, but results from causes easily understood and overcome. it clearly proves that any woman may become a mother without suffering any pain whatever. It also tells how to overcome and prevent morning sickness' swelled limbs, and all other evils attending pregnancy. The Grave Gets Tired Yawning.

Seemingly, for certain wretched invalids who toddle along, though always looking as if they were going to die, but omitting to do it. They dry up, wither, dwindle away finally, but in the meantime never having robust health, know nothing of the physical enjoyment the zest of that existance to which they cling with such remarkable tenacity. They are always to be found trying to mend by tinkering at themselves with some trashy remedy, tonic or "pick me up" to give a fillip to digestion or "help the liver." If such misguided folks would resort and adhere to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters it would be well with them. This superb invigorant supplies the stamina that the feeble require, by permanently reinforcing digestion and assimilation. It overcomes nervousness, insomnia, malaria, kidney complaint, billiousness, constipation, rheumatism and neuralgia.

Was It He?

A dispatch from Montpelier, Indiana says that George Schrock was struck by a stray bullet at a shooting match on Thursday and killed. There was a George Schrock who worked in the Bellefonte Republican and DAILY NEWS office for a number of years and who recently went out to the section where this accident occurred. Was it really our printer friend?—Lock Haven Democrat.

No, sir, it was not "he." Our printer friend is adapting his mortal frame to better use than putting it up at a shooting match as a back stop for stray bullets. Then again he is not or never was in Montpelier, Indiana, but in Akron, Ohio.

TO ADVERTISERS!

HOW TO GET THE MOST SERVICE FOR THE MONEY!

The Advertiser who would be willing to pay twenty-five cents for every family who could be "educated" up to the value of his goods would thus devote $3,000,000 to educate the 12,000,000 families which make up the 60,000,000 of the United States. This sum would do the business thoroughly in a year, for it is sufficient to pay for the insertion of a full column in every issue of every publication, and for resetting the matter, making it new in every issue of each separate publication. We will receive and execute the contract.

$5,000 One of the most successful Advertisers we ever had always ordered his advertisements in this way, "Get the best service you can for me for $5,000," leaving every detail to us. We were thus enabled to say to a Publisher, if you put this in at a large reduction from your rate it will be no criterion for further transactions. It was a surprise to find ourselves so often able to contract for the insertion of that particular advertisement at half rates, in papers which would not permit us to OFFER their columns at a penny's deviation from a printed schedule. The advertising rates of one New York paper are double those of another which has twice the circulation of the first. Similar discrepancies are not uncommon. The advertisement intrusted to us to be placed in accordance with our judgment often does double service for half the money. A dollar for twenty-five cents.

$1,000 If we are given authority to insert advertisements to a limited amount, in such mediums as offer inducements which seem to us specially favorable, we shall not abuse the confidence reposed in us, and shall render statements of whatever is done (if anything) from day to day. When TRUSTED with the placing of an advertisement, we are put upon honor, and are bound in honor to give the best service possible for the money to be used.

$500 Leading Newspapers, especially the leading Agricultural Nswspapers, frequently issue large special editions (of twenty, fifty, a hundred, or even five hundred thousand copies,) and elicit advertisement orders from us on terms which would often be accepted by our patrons if there was time to invite attention to the matter; but the question must generally be decided before there would be time to write and receive a reply, and often the case cannot be fully stated within the limits of a letter.

$250 Prepare a small advertisement and send with check for $250, or any other sum. The practice of asking the Agent to name his papers in advance compels him to name such as are well known, otherwise there is reason to suspect that his judgment is biased;—and the best papers do not like to have their rates quoted below their schedule.

$100 The advertiser who sends his advertisements asking for the best service possible for one hundred dollars, will often get from five to fifty per cent more service for his money, than he would had he required us to tell him in advance exactly what service we would promise; for when an estimate has been given its plan and specifications must, in a general way at least, control the advertising to be done: It ties the Agent's hands and prevents his giving his patrons TO-DAY a better service than he could have promised yesterday, because yesterday the opportunity had not presented itself: to-morrow it may have passed! Some publications are used more economically on contracts for a single issue; in others insertion for a month may be had as cheaply as for a single week but in furnishing an estimate in advance, if the Agent attempts to go into details, his correspondence becomes voluminous and the advertiser confused.

$50. If you are in the habit of occasionally inserting a small advertisement in a few papers, investing a few dollars and carefully noting the result; we desire you to make trial of our Advertising Bureau, sending us the advertisement and the money, leaving the selection of the papers to us, and judging of the service rendered by results rather than by names, circulation claims or prices. To make up careful estimates calls for much work. It don't pay to make them indiscriminately for every applicant. If such estimates as are asked for were always given the Advertiser who wished to expend $50 would frequently find himself in posession of a scheme which it would cost $500 or possibly $5,000 to carry out.

$10. We devote all necessary care to placing small orders for Advertising:—even the smallest! Time is saved by sending check with the order. Often the Advertiser is not possessed of sufficient information on the subject to enable him to judge of the merits of an estimate for advertising, and he decides by the footings of the figures whether he will or will not do the work. Yet the estimate binds the Agent and makes it improper for him to make any variation in its specifications, however much his judgment may point to material changes which ought to be made. This is specially liable to be the case when the order comes a considerable time after the estimate was made.

Have You Read the Philadelphia TIMES THIS MORNING?

THE TIMES is the most extensively circulated and widely read newspaper published in Pennsylvania. Its discussion of public men and public measures is in the interest of public integrity, honest government and prosperous industry, and it knows no party or personal allegiance in treating public issues. In the broadest and best sense a family and general newspaper.

THE NEWS OF THE WORLD.—The Times has all the facilities of advanced journalism for gathering news from all quarters of the Globe, in addition to that of the Associate Press now covering the whole world in its scope, making it the perfection of a Newspaper, with everything carefully edited to occupy the smallest space.

THE SUNDAY EDITION is not only a complete newspaper, but a Magazine of Popular Literature. Its sixteen large pages, clearly printed and attractively illustrated, contain as much good literature, by the foremost writers of the world, as any of the popular monthlies. Some of the newspapers in New York, Boston and Chicago print a greater number of pages upon Sunday, but these are for the most part occupied with advertisements. The merchants in these cities concentrate nearly all their advertising in the Sunday papers, while in Philadelphia they have found it more advantageous to advertise on week days as well.

CONTRIBUTORS to the Sunday edition of The Times include many of the foremost names in contemporary literature, both American and European. Its contents cover the whole field of human interest with all that is freshest and best in

The page devoted especially to them commands the services of the best writers and is edited with scrupulous care, with the aim of making it entertaining and instructive and helpful to the sound education as well as to the pure amusement of both big and little boys and girls.

THE ILLUSTRATIONS of The Times are recognized as the very best printed in any Daily newspaper, and, with the elegance of typography for which The Times is noted, add to its popularity among all classes of readers.

THE TIMES aims to have the largest circulation by deserving it, and claims that it is unsurpassed in all the essentials of a great metropolitan newspaper.

WASHINGTON GOSSIP.

Secretary Windom's Silver Policy and Its Supporters.

POPULAR IN THE SENATE.

The Members of the Finance Committee Said to Be Generally in Favor of It. Rivalry Over the Location of the Proposed New Mint.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 1.—In the opinion of many Republicans it is not safe to place much reliance on the estimates loosely made in the press as to the prospects of the Windom silver bill when it gets before congress. It is said that more than one senator who has been generally counted against the bill because it is not radical enough will support it, and very promptly, when it comes up. These men have a notion that the association of their names with the measure would hurt it with eastern financiers, whom they have no desire just now to antagonize. Said one of them:

Will It Raise the Price of Silver?

"Do I believe that this bill, if it becomes a law, will raise the price of silver? Most assuredly. Let me give you an example. Suppose Phil Armour, with an inexhaustible bank account behind him, were to throw open his check book and say: 'I will buy every head of cattle brought to me till the price of beef reaches sixteen cents a pound.' How long do you suppose it would be before beef touched sixteen cents? I would give it a few months, at the outside, but I should not be surprised to see it get there in ten days. It is just the same with silver. If the government says: 'We'll buy every ounce of silver brought to us till the market price of silver reaches its normal ratio to the price of gold,' how long would it take, do you think, for silver to get there?"

One Change Suggested.

From another source it is learned that the members of the senate finance committee, to whom the bill will be referred, are generally favorable to the Windom plan. The only change which is apprehended is a provision for the redemption of the bullion notes in lawful money. Such an amendment, it is safe to say, would not be grateful to the secretary, who regards the protection of the note holder against loss by shrinkage in the value of silver as the very best feature of the plan. The friends of the change, however, argue that the unlimited purchase feature would send the silver dollar up to par without delay, and hence that there would be no unfairness in offering the note holder a silver dollar in exchange for his paper.

The Next New Mint.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 1.—It is expected here that the news of the intention of Philadelphia to ask congress for a new mint will arouse some feeling in New York, where a good many people have maintained for years that a mint ought to be established. It is very certain that in the one city or the other there will be a new building before long. The old one consumes some $40,000 a year in mere patchwork. It is old fashioned and inconvenient, and ill adapted generally for its requirements.

The only feature of real value which would be regretted in making a move are the new storage vaults, which are sound and dry, and to which the $15,000,000 in silver stored till now in the Philadelphia postoffice will speedily be removed. Complaint has been made that the old concern is an incongruous element in the neighborhood where it stands, and that its smokestacks, with their soot and gaseous fumes, are a nuisance. The idea is to buy land and build quite a distance back on the outskirts of the city, where the government's process of manufacturing money will not be in anybody's way.

The National Debt.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 1.—It is estimated at the treasury department that the reduction of the national debt for December will be about $4,000,000. This will make the reduction for the last six months about $34,500,000, and for the calendar year 1889, $81,481,258. The reduction for the calendar year 1888 was $91,536,143.

Postmasters Appointed.

The Vice President Not Ill.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 1.—Inquiry at the home of Vice President Morton develops the fact that the vice president is not sick. Mrs. Morton has been confined to her bed for several days, but not with influenza, as reported.

The Marine Conference Adjourns Sine Die.

Norwalk's Club Scandal.

NORWALK, Conn., Jan. 1.—Hon. E. A. Woodward, treasurer of the South Norwalk club, who was arrested Saturday morning, technically charged with selling liquor to members without a license, appeared for trial at the city police rooms before Justice Morrell. The club members were there in force, and the court room was crowded with spectators. On motion of Lawyer Frost, for the defense, the case was adjourned until Thursday morning, when, by agreement, a demurrer will be entered carrying the case to the newly established common pleas court at Bridgeport. The club members are prominent in New York business life, and a majority are remaining in that city to avoid summonses as witnesses.

Now Is The Time To Subscribe
TO THE NORTH AMERICAN REVIEW.

Arrangements have been made for the coming year which will maintain for the REVIEW its unrivalled position among periodicals, and render it essential to every reader in America who desires to keep abreast of the times. From months to months topics of commanding interest in every field of human thought and action will be treated of in its pages by representative writers, whose words and names carry authority with them.

The forthcoming volume will be signalized by the discussion of questions of high public interest by the foremost men of the time, notably by a controversy on Free Trade and Protection in their bearing upon the development of American Industry and Commerce, between the two most famous living statesmen of England and America

The Right Hon. W. E. GLADSTONE
AND
Hon. JAMES G BLAINE

This discussion, embracing the most important contributions ever made to an American periodical, will begin in the January number.

It is a significant fact—as showing the unparalleled popularity and usefulness of this periodical and its wide influence upon public opinion—that the circulation of THE NORTH AMERICAN REVIEW is greater than that of all other American and English Reviews combined.

Merit Wins.

We desire to say to our citizens, that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. Kings New Life Pills, Bucklin's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitter's, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits. W C Keplinger & Co. Druggists.

—Street commissioner Thomas Shaughensey has just finished another good job. He has carted about eighteen inches of well broken stone and gravel on Water street from Heisler's marble yard around to the railroad. This has always been too low and in wet weather was a very bad passage way. Now it will be one of the best thoroughfares in this town.

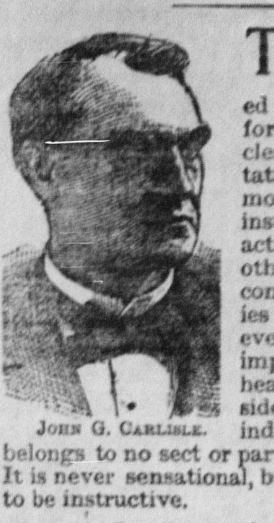
The Forum.
A MONTHLY REVIEW OF LIVING SUBJECTS
By the Foremost Writers in the World.



JOHN G. CARLISLE.

THE FORUM has won the highest place reached by any periodical; for it publishes articles by more authoritative writers and by more workers along instructive lines of activity than any other publication. It contains eleven studies of great subjects every month. It is impartial, giving hearings alike to each side. It is financially independent, and it belongs to no sect or party or "interest." It is never sensational, but it aims always to be instructive.

I consider THE FORUM as furnishing the most intelligent and sympathetic audience that a thoughtful writer can find to address in any land.—Prof. ALEXANDER WINCHELL, of the University of Michigan.

THE FORUM continues to hold its place as the foremost of our magazines, for the variety, the value, and the weight of its contributions.—THE NEW YORK TIMES.

Announcements of forthcoming articles can seldom be made long in advance, for THE FORUM'S discussions are always of problems of present concern. Every such problem that the year 1890 will bring forward will be discussed, whether in politics, or religion, or social science, or practical affairs. The January number will contain a reply by ex-Speaker J. G. CARLISLE to Senator Cullom's recent article on "How the Tariff Affects the Farmer."

INSPECTION OF COMPANY B.

Armory Co. B. 5th Regiment, N. G. P.
Bellefonte, Dec. 28, 1889.

GENERAL ORDERS, No. 7:

All officers and men will report at the Armory on Friday evening, January 3, 1890, at 7 o'clock, in full uniform, without fail. Colonel Theodore Burchfield, Commander of the Regiment, will be present to inspect the Company. By order of W F REBER, Capt.

H S TAYLOR, 1st Sergt.

A Safe Investment.

Is one which is guaranteed to bring you satisfactory results, or in case of failure a return of purchase price. On this safe plan you can buy from our advertised druggists a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. It is guaranteed to bring relief in every case, when used for any affection of the Throat, Lungs, or Chest, such as Consumption, Inflammation of Lungs, Bronchitis, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Croup, etc., can always be depended upon. Trial bottles free at W C Keplinger & Co's Drug store.

A Mill Hall Possibility.

While we are not specially informed in regard to the matter, we learn in a general way that the clay ridge back of Mill Hall, this side of the old furnace and along the Beech Creek railroad, is composed of good clay, equal to that at Wayne, for the manufacture of red brick, and the suggestion has been made that it would be a paying movement to form a company for the development of the same. There are two railroads passing through Mill Hall in close proximity to the ridge and the means of transportation would therefore be both excellent and easy. Why could not a company be formed here and at Mill Hall for the purpose of utilizing this clay and making its extraction from the earth and its conversion into red brick one of the material industries of this section? Let our capitalists consider the matter, make the necessary inquiries and examinations and, if the matter seems feasible, act promptly.

Sanitary Bureau, New York City.

Dr. Cyrus Edson of the New York Health Department prescribes Speer's Port Grape Wine in his practice as the purest and most reliable wine to be had and his opinion is endorsed by his associates as will be seen from the following letter:

New York, Dec. 9, 1887.

The Speer N J Wine Co.,

Gentlemen:

Having used your Port Wine to a large extent in my family in cases of sickness and found it to be all that was recommended of it by my family physician, I desire to purchase it by the dozen bottles,

Respectfully yours,
JAMES BRYAN,
Sanitary Inspector Health Department, New York City. Druggists keep it.

An ermin, a small animal of the weasel family, was killed by William Hartly, esq., of Bedford, on Christmas morning. It was pure white, except the tip of its tail, which was jet black. It is a native of extreme northern climates and is very rare in this locality.

SHADELAND.

We call our readers attention to the ad. of Messrs. Powell Brothers whose stock has become so well known throughout America that no argument is needed to convince one desiring choice animals of any breed, of the wisdom of visiting their establishment before making a selection. They feel justified in saying that their experience as breeders and importers, their facilities, low rates of transportation, large numbers constantly on hand (now being over 1000 head of pure bred live stock) and the extent of their business, enables them to offer inducements to any wishing to purchase fine live stock, not surpassed by any firm in this country.

Hard at Work.

Nearly one hundred Eminent Persons are now engaged in preparing valuable and important contributions to the YOUTH'S COMPANION for 1890.

Mr. Gladstone is getting together his reminiscences of Motley the Historian; Justin McCarthy is writing all his personal recollections of great Prime Ministers; Sir Morell Mackenzie is thinking of what he shall say to THE COMPANION readers on the training of their voices in youth; Captain Kennedy is recalling the exciting episodes of his five hundred different trips across the Atlantic, and making notes for his articles; P. T. Barnum is preparing the account of how he secured his White Elephant; General Wolsely is arranging to tell the boys how they can endure hardships; Carroll D. Wright is securing statistics about the boy and girl laborers of America, what they do and what they earn; Hon. James G. Blaine is writing a paper for our young politicians; popular authors are at work on serial stories; the Presidents of three leading American colleges will give advice to boys on their future; Tyndall and Shaler are to talk about the wonders of nature; Marion Holland promises to entertain the girls, while Lieutenant Schwatka will take the boys in imagination to the loneliest place in the United States.

There are hundreds of pleasures in store for THE COMPANION readers of 1890. Every one is hard at work, as you see. $1.75 will admit you to 52 weeks of these entertainments. Send for Full Prospectus for 1890 to THE YOUTH'S COMPANION, Boston, Mass.

GOD HELP THE NEEDY POOR.

BY CAPT. P. KELLY.

Hard times have come and all complain,
What can a poor man do?
Business dull—shops closed again—
Work only for the few.
Our wives and children cry for bread,
Grim want is at the door;
We struggle on till hope has fled—
God help the needy poor!

How hard the miseries of life
The poor men have to share,
The trials, suffering and the strife
The burdens, that we bear.
Misfortune follows woe and want
We suffer and endure,
And labor hard—our pay so small—
God help the needy poor!

Since poverty be not a crime,
And should be no disgrace;
The men of welth, in every clime,
Should share it with their race
And freely give with heart and hand,
From out their worldly store.
All should obey divine command—
Go feed and clothe the poor.

Pride, capital, it will combine
To raise both food and rent,
And everything man needs, in fine,
Each gift that God has sent,
Men hoard up wealth, by millions, they
Will feast and squander more,
The poor are starving day by day—
God help the needy poor!

Brave, noble men, and Country's pride
And hope, in time of need,
The bone and sinew, true and tried,
In freedom's cause you lead.
Defenders of our flag, and soil,
The flag we all adore,
Hard fisted sons of honest toil—
The fearless, brave and poor.

We look to Him who rules on high—
Great God above us all,
Who hears the widow's mournful cry
And sees the sparrows fall,
Shelters the orphans in distress,
The lonely and obscure,
The saints all praise and angels bless,
God will reward the poor.

SCROFULA FROM CHILDHOOD.

After being Treated by Eminent Physicians he is Cured by S S S.

The following is an extract taken from a letter received from Mr T A Sizemore, of Piedmont, S C, and written under date of November 6, 1888.

'I am now twenty-eight years old and from the time I was seven years of age until 1885, I suffered with a severe case of scrofula. During that time I took every known remedy, but to no purpose. My father took me to North Carolina, where I was put under the treatment of an eminent physician. The medicines given me had only a temporary effect, for shortly after my return the scrofula broke out in a more malignant form and I was worse off than ever before.

'In 1885 I discontinued taking all other medicines and commenced taking Swift's Specific [S S S] I took a number of bottles and it cured me. I have been free from scrofula from that time until now.'

Attacked by Rheumatism.

I have been selling Swift's Specific [S S S] since 1878, during which time I might name a great number of very remarkable cures that it has effected. One in particular, was a person who was attacked with rheumatism. The case was so bad that he was helpless for a long time. He took hundreds of dollars worth of other medicines without receiving any benefit. He was at length happily and permanently cured after using a few bottles of Swift's Specific (S S S).

Work of Prehistoric Man.

A special from Altoona to the Pittsburg Dispatch says: Just across the line between Centre and Clearfield counties, and located in former, is probably the most remarkable prehistoric fortification in the United States. It is seven or eight miles eastward from Houtzdale, and is located near the headwaters of the Moshannon, and burrows into the mountain side. A growth of timber indicates its antiquity. It is a semicircular wall, possibly 800 feet high and built of stone, evidently transported from a ledge fifteen miles distant. The outer surface is covered with a curious cement of a composition unknown to local chemists. The masonry is of a most artistic order, and indicates an architecture belonging to some race and period wholly unknown to the present generation.

Commencing near the ruined wall and running southward is a series of stone pillars, evidently used as alters in some forgotten age. They number some six or eight in all, and despite the work of vandals, are yet distinctly marked, some of them being from six to eight feet high.

They are small stone pyramids, facing every possible approach to the ruins, and were evidently intended as defensive ramparts, behind which the builders might find shelter and protection.

TAX PAID.

There are probably few who realize the enormous amount of money annually paid into the U S Treasury of both Imported and Domestic liquors. Are you aware that Max Klein, of Allegheny, Pa., is a large contributor to that fund? Are you posted as to who does one of the largest business in the liquor line? If not, let us tell you that Max Klein leads them all—and why? Because he has long since succeeded in convincing the people that he furnishes value for value. He sells six year old Guckenheimer, Finch, Overholt and Gibson, at $1 00 per quart, or six quarts for $5 00. His Silver Age that defies competition at $1 50 each quart bottle. Wines at 50 cents per quart and upward. He ships in neatly packed boxes. Send for price list and catalogue and do not hesitate to send your order to Max Klein, 82 Federal St., Allegheny, Pa.

Fine Instruments on Gine Ships.

As to music, the owners of the City of Paris, City of New York and Trutonic have shown the same consideration for the comfort of the passengers that they have in anything else. The two former ships are each provided with an upright piano by Mason & Hamlin, furnished in a superb case of cherry inlaid in birds-eye maple, the design harmonizing beautifully with the room itself. These pianos contain the improved mode of stringing, invented and patented by Mason & Hamlin, which is said to peculiarly fit them for withstanding the ravages of the sea. The Paris and New York are each provided with a two-manual pedal bass organ, also by Mason & Hamlin, furnished in an exquisitely chaste case of white enamel. The salon of the Teutonic contains a piano and also one of those marvelously beautiful and artistic instruments, viz. the Liszt organ, by Mason & Hamlin. The case of this instrument is truly a work of art. It is old oak, highly polished with trimmings in gold and brown, the total effect harmonizing beautifully with the architecture of the room. It is to be regretted that America can boast no such ships as these, but it is some comfort to the patriotic that the magnificient instruments on these ships are all of American make.—N. Y. Sun.

A Successful Book For Agents.

The rush of agents for Mary A. Livermore's famous new book, "My Story of the War," is unprecedented, and its sale is increasing every day, This magnificiently illustrated work is not, as might be supposed from its title, a history of the war, but is Mrs. Livermore's own account of her four years' personal work and experience as a nurse in hospitals, camps and on the battle-field. Of course the book is full of the most profound pathos, and the Christian Woman truthfully says of it, "We care not how deep the well may be. tears may be drawn from it and fall upon these pages." Its sale offers to men and women a rare opportunity to make money, It is published by A. D. Worthington & Co., Hartford, Conn., who advertises for men and women agents in another column of this paper.

The Weather 53 Years Ago.

"Fifty-three years ago," says a Wheeling paper, "there was a spell of December weather just like this warm wave, and it was followed by a blizzard remarkable for its suddeness and violence. The morning of December 20, 1836, was unusually warm, and yet in the afternoon and evening of the same day many persons and animals were frozen to death all over the country. First there was a warm rain, with thunder and lightning, and then a dark cloud, starting in the northwest, rose rapidly to the zenith. The thunder was terrific and was followed by a sudden cold wave.

"People were caught without any warning. The warm weather had caused them to lay aside their wrappings and gloves, and many had their hands, faces and bodies frozen before they could reach a shelter. Within fifteen minutes from the time the first cold blast made itself felt the water was frozen hard, and persons in wet garments found themselves as closely imprisoned as the wearers of coats of mail. The loss of life and property following the blizzard was enormous. A blizzard frequently follows this kind of weather and the present December and that of 1836 have a startling resemblance to each other."

OUR LITTLE REBEL

When the Confederates came swarming across the Crew farm to reach us on Malvern Hill we knew that they were coming to death and defeat. We had been driven back from the Chickahominy step by step and day by day, fighting fierce battles at every rallying point but this was the end. Malvern Hill, crowned with troups and bristling with cannon, was impregnable. I was posted on the point looking toward the Crew House in the dry bed of a creek. It was a capital rifle pit, and we were packed in so thick that we scarcely had elbow room. As the legions in grays attacked our rapid fire, assisted by the batteries above us was enough to demoralize the lines without the infantry higher up, firing a gun.

Magruder must have been insane that afternoon to send his men to their death across that open as he did. We could see them come out of the forest in splendid formation, and as they got the order to advance their step was like clockwork, There was a meadow, with hardly a stump in it, stretching away before us half a mile, and the Confederates hadn't the slightest cover. Being so low down we could see under the smoke, and it was enough to make your flesh creep to see the havoc worked by our shell before the lines got within musket range. The man on my left put down his musket and prayed God that the rebels would go back and thus put an end to the horrible work. Then, when they pushed on and got within range, there was a flame all along our mile front—flame after flame and not a rebel got within stone's throw.

The last charge made just at twilight was the most desperate of all. The lines started with a yell and charged on the run, and, though hundreds went down, other hundreds kept on. We shattered and scorched and withered them with our musketry fire, and I finally heard them sound "retreat." We sprung up, gave them a last volley, and then dashed forward a few rods with the bayonet. Out of the smoke and darkness suddenly appeared a figure on my front. There was a blaze and the man on my right went down, shot in the shoulder. There was a whi-z-z! and the but of a musket just cleared my head and knocked the man on my left flat to the earth. I had my musket at a charge, when a voice called out:

"Hold on! I surrender."

I went forward and took hold of him, and who or what do you suppose he was? A boy not yet 15 years old, and as pale faced and gentle spoken as a girl. More than that, he was wounded in the side, in the leg and in the head. We had him driven back to stay, and our boys were cheering and yelling, and I took the boy on my back and carried him beyond the creek and into our lines, He must have been suffering painfully with his wounds, but he never uttered a groan. I heaped two or three blankets together and made him a good bed, but I could get no one to do for him. There were dead and wounded men almost without number around us, and that last desperate charge had hardly been driven back before McClellan issued his orders to fall back to the river under cover of gunboats. As my brigade was nearest to the rebels we were the last to move, and it was long after midnight before we got the word.

Meanwhile I had inspected the boy's wounds and soothed him as best I could. It was plain that he was fatally hit, and when he realized this he said:

"I—I don't care for myself, but mother—poor old mother! And Sister Mary—and little Jim—it will break their hearts."

By and by he fell into a sort of stupo that lasted for a quarter of an hour. Then he roused himself and exclaimed:

"It was a glorious charge! We knew that we were going to death, but never a man hung back—never a man lost the step! Were they driven back?"

"Yes."

"But we reached our lines?"

"Yes, a few."

"And I am one?"

"Yes, poor boy. Never a one came nearer than you."

"That's grand! They said I would be afraid, but I wasn't. I didn't feel it when I was hit. We were on the double-quick. I was cheering. Hurrah! Hurrah!"

Half an hour later he was dead. There were three of us bending over him, when he suddenly sat up, waved his arm and sought to cheer again, but the blood choked him,and he fell dead.

Twenty long years after, one day in a Georgia farm house, I found his mother, old and bent and gray, and little Jim, now grown to manhood, and sister Mary, now a woman, wife and mother. They knew he fell at Malvern Hill, but he had been buried among the unknown, and how he died they knew not.

HINTS FOR THE COMPLEXION.

Girls who put paint or powder on their faces, or use cosmetics warranted to do what nothing plastered on their chin possibly can do, waste their money uselessly.

A refined appearance is much more cheaply and easily attained by thorough bathing, by using fine towels, nice soap and plenty of water.

Every poor girl cannot have the use of a bath, but a tea kettle of hot water and a clean pail will serve her purpose. Let people say what they will about cold water, I believe that the hot sponge bath is necessary for cleanliness, especially to those who work hard and are occupied in crowded factories, or even in large stores or sewing rooms.

The morning wash may be cold, but at night use the hot water, and do not fear to use it on your face or to bathe your hands in it, drying these gently with soft towels.

The reiterated statement that "French ladies" never use water on their faces may be true, for French ladies, fascinating as they often are, have not the best skins in the world. English ladies, who are washed honestly every day from their earliest nursery days, are noted for their fine complexions.

Refuse from the beginning to use powder. The multitude of wrinkles which cover the faces of some middle-aged ladies are frequently brought there by powder.

A pair of kid mits, with a little cold cream inside, may be worn at night with good effect on the hands, and a little lip salve is good if the lips are chapped. Gloves should be worn in the street, and not removed too hastily if the hands are disposed to perspire. The effects of hard usage or of exposure may be removed very easily· but a skin that is constantly rough, or covered with pimples, can only be improved by medicine.

A spare shilling or two would be better spent in consulting some experienced doctor that on cosmetics. He may tell you than you need to thin your blood, or to enrich it; he may advise a fattening diet, or a thinning one. It is very likely that by following this advice you may acquire a much better appearance in a very short time. But do not buy patent medicines at random, or go to any quack to help you. A family doctor of respectable standing is the person to choose.

In fact, to sum up the whole of this advice in few words—thorough cleanliness and a little medicine taken under advice will give you the good complexion you desire, while the cosmetics, which are all different forms of grease, chalk and lead in various proportions, will make you old and ugly before your time, will cause your respectability to be doubted by strangers, and sometimes expose you to insult which you would not otherwise receive.

A man who has practiced medicine for 40 years ought to know salt from sugar; read what he says:

Messrs. F. J. Cheney & Co.—Gentlemen:—I have been in the general practice of medicine for most 40 years, and would say that in all my practice and experience have never seen a preparation that I could prescribe with as much confidence of success as I can Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by you. Have prescribed it a great many times and its effect is wonderful, and would say in conclusion that I have yet to find a case of Catarrh that it would not cure, if they would take it according to directions.

Yours Truly,
L. L. GORSUCH, M. D.
Office, 215 Summit St.

We will give $100 for any case of Catarrh that can not be cured with Hall's Catarrh Cure. Taken internally.

A Hint for Young Girls.

When your sweetheart comes to see you, don't be foolish enough to confine your sweetness to him alone. Have him in where all of the rest of the household are. Let the talk and the chatter and the music and the playing of games be in the home circle. Then the few minutes that he gets with you by yourself will seem all the more delightful, and he will think you the most loving little creature in the world. Men are much more observant than they are credited with being,and the man worth having as a husband is the one who will appreciate your love for those of your own people and will see that as you make a small part in one home, you are becoming adapted for the central figure in another.

Never say that you don't expect a man to marry your whole family. It's vulgar. You do. That is, if you are a good daughter and a loving sister. You want him to be one with you in sympathy and in affection, and as you take his name, so you assume responsibilities as far as his people are concerned: You two, are the most to each other—your love for each should be the greatest, but you cannot isolate yourselves and insist that you have no duties outside your own home. If you do this you become narrow and selfish, and you are quite too nice a girl for that. So remember when he comes this bridegroom of yours, that his heart is bound the tighter to you if the ribbon used to hold it has written upon it in golden letters "Love and consideration for those at home."—Ladies Home Journal.

—The storm of Thursday night blew the jewelry sign of F. C. Richards down breaking the glass over the door.

—Thursday's gale played sad havoc with Rev. R. C. Crittenden's fence. It blew it down all along one side of his lot.

—The Renovo Record entered upon its nineteenth volume this week. It is a lively, newsy paper, and we wish it continued success.

—It can truly be said that the Bellefonte merchants have not enjoyed as much trade for a long time as they did this Holiday season.

—A tenant house belonging to Howard Burket, in Warriorsmark Valley, was burned to the ground on Christmas day. Loss about $750.

Mr. Geo. P. Bible, after eating his Christmas dinner in this place went to Lemont to see his mother. He goes next week to Bedford.

The person who has a great amount of work to do yet this year had better be at it as there are only a few days more and one of them is Sunday.

—Rev. Dr. McGlynn will probably be in Bellefonte on January 14th, 1890, and deliver his popular lecture that he was to have given here on Nov. 28th.

—Calendars for 1890 are just now trump. Every mail almost brings one from somewhere, and every boy almost brings one from—an insurance agent.

—The tower on the new Evangelical church, Willow Bank street, is almost completed and adds considerable to the imposing appearance of that edifice.

—There was no more handsomely arranged window in Bellefonte than just Joseph Brothers. It is a scene from Watkin's Glenn and looks very life-like and natural.

—The street commissioner is grading water street out by the rink. It certainly needed it very badly and the present addition of stone and gravel will be a wonderful improvement.

—Mr. Ed. Cooke's new house on Water street is now undergoing a transformation at the instance of the painters brush. When completed Ed will have one of the prettiest residences in that neighborhood.

—A mock trial—the case for which will probably be murder—is now on the tapis to be given soon in the new gymnasium building, for the benefit of that same institution. It promises to be one of much interest.

—All the churches held appropriate service on Christmas day and some had trees and entertainments for the Sunday school. In the Reformed church there was a very pretty entertainment on Christmas evening.

—Publication of the Renovo News has again been revived. This time M. J. Dillon's name is at its mast-head as publisher and proprietor and that of Dan Brower, Jr. as editor. Here's success to you gentlemen.

—M. Brockway, the "Yankee Candy Man" has boxed up and departed as quickly and suddenly as he came. The reason for his hasty departure is that all his time and attention will now be taken up in working on his patent envelope. Success to him.

—The Collins' Bros., of this place, have opened a rich vein of pipe ore on the farm of Mr. Runkle, within half a mile of Old Fort. The Collins' will put in a switch to connect with the Lewisburg railroad and ship the ore to their furnaces here. It is reported that they have obligated themselves to take out one hundred tons a day for which Mr. Runkle is to receive 25 cents per ton royalty.

—The pall bearers at the funeral of Miss Bessie Elliott, on Monday, were W. Fred Reynolds, Jno. Potter, A. G. Curtin, Jr. Budd Thompson, Mr. Bing and James Hamill. The officiating minister was Rev. Wm. Laurie, D. D., of the Presbyterian church, assisted by Revs. W. R. Houck, Mr. Kelly, of Baileyville, and W. L. Hayden. The services were appropriate and very impressive.

HOUSERVILLE HEARD FROM.

Poetry, Prose, and a Big Lot of Interesting Reading.

The toll-gate keeper of Lemont,
Warns Mr. John Boal,
If he don't pay his toll,
She'll pull down the pole
If she catches him then,
She'll make Johnny Boal sing,
To a tune that has double-quick time.
So Johnny take heed,—
If these lines you should read,
For your toll it is only a dime.

What's the matter with Houserville? most all of our neighboring churches had Christmas trees and treats for the young folks. Houserville has plenty of young folks but, alas! no material for Christmas trees unless, perhaps, chestnuts would do.

On Sunday of last week while the family of Alfred Johnstonbaugh was away from home attending church, tramps or robbers, or whatever they may be called, broke into their house and robbed them of nearly all their apples, which were not a few, either, as Mr. Johnstonbaugh had as fine a lot of winter apples as one could wish for. As far as known nothing else was destroyed unless it was the carpet, as the thieves were not particular about cleaning the mud off their shoes. A revolver was found in the barn by a member of the family and it can only be conjectured to what use the villians had contemplated putting it.

We are sorry to note that W G Coble is numbered among the sick at this place.

Misses Sallie and Kate Behers, of near Benore, were recent visitors at the home of R C. Palmer, of this place.

Mr. Hal Bottorf, who has been visiting friends and relatives in Altoona for a couple of weeks, has returned home and reports having a good time.

Newton Showalter is at present working in Bellefonte, helping to build a new church. Newt. is a boss carpenter and understands his business.

Once upon a time there were two old maids in the vicinity of Houserville who made a woodchopping party and invited all the aristocratic young men in the neighborhood with the expectation of paying attention to two particular ones, but, oh, alas! what was their discomfiture when the day of the party arrived and the woodchoppers began to assemble, with their axes on their shoulders, to find that the two most particularly wanted ones did not make their appearance. I can only say that the party was not quite a success. Poor girls!

The United Brethren church, of this place, is very badly in need of repairs.

The report that A. B. Cowher has left the woolen mills and gone to work in Morris' lime kiln is a false one, as the young man in question is still a weaver in the Houserville woolen mills.

Henry Houser, who has been living his uncle, David Houser, of this place, has changed his place of abode to that of Mr. Henry Gingerich, in Pennsvalley, where he expects to spend the winter. Belle says it awful lonesome since Henry has gone.

It was reported in last week's paper that Ira Lyle had pitched his tent at Matern's Ore Mines, but such is not the case as that gentleman has no intention whatever of changing his present occupation for that of true mining ore. It is time that Mr. Lyle did pay a visit to the mines but it was for the purpose of interceding in behalf of our friend Reuben Houser, and not for himself. Of course, it was only a mistake of the writer.

SHORTY.

The Boston Stars.

Just two more days, or on Friday evening, January 3, 1890, Emerson's Boston Stars will appear in the Court House in this place. This will be number three in the W. C. T. U. Star Course entertainments, and will undoubtedly be one of the best and most enjoyable of the series. The "Stars" are under the management of Mr. Albert Patterson and composed of the following eminent artists:

Walter Emerson, the greatest cornet player living; John Thomas, the popular American humorist; Rudolf King, the brilliant pianist and accompanist; and Medora Henson-Emerson, the distinguished prima donna.

The above compose one of the strongest musical company's on the road. Each and every individual is a star. Read what the press says of them:

Walter Emersom has won for himself a world wide reputation. His execution is matchless, while his beautiful tone and wonderful interval playing are most remarkable. He has no equal. When he plays at Bay Ridge great crowds surround the band stand and listen enchanted to him.

Mr. John Thomas, the humorist, gave both songs and recitations, and was alike funny in each. He has a naive and graceful manner in speech or song, which is very taking, and is sufficiently dramatic to meet the exigencies and give the listener the same impression that he would receive if the characters were real and not assumed.

Mr. King executes in a highly effective manner. His execution is marked by energy, decision and firmness of touch, and no one can be in doubt in regard to the meaning which he intends to convey. As an accompanist he succeeds admirably.

"The Damnation of Faust" was given in Metropolitan Opera House last evening to an immense audience. Medora Henson-Emerson was the most satisfactory Marguerite we have ever had.

Tickets now on sale, the price of which is only 50 cents. Be sure and purchase one and go and see, hear and enjoy yourself.

Two Weeks in Florida.

Two weeks in Florida is about the average time the ordinary traveler can devote to a visit for pleasure or recreation, and with this idea in view the Pennsylvania Railroad Company arranged its personally-conducted winter pleasure tours to cover that period. The first of the series of tours is fixed for Tuesday, January 7th. The special train of Pullman sleeping and dining cars will leave New York on that date at 9.20 A. M., Philadelphia, Broad Street, 11.52 A. M., and run through to Jacksonville on first time. All the meals will be served on the dining car, and will be included in the price of the ticket. Excursion tickets, including meals en route and Pullman accommodations, will be sold from New York at $50.00, Philadelphia $48.00, and at proportionate rates from other principal stations on the system. The tickets will be good only on the special trains, except that tourists from stations where the specials do not stop may take regular trains to the nearest connecting point.

For itineraries and detailed information apply to ticket agents or address S. W. F. Draper, Tourist Agent Pennsylvania Railroad, 849 Broadway, New York.

"La Grippe" in Bellefonte.

Reader, did you ever know Bellefonte to be behind in anything? Never! It wasn't built that way. And now that the fashionable "fad" is the patent influenza—"La Grippe"—it is being numerously sought after and munificently obtained—by those who do not want it. But it is here, nevertheless. Paul Sternberg, the efficient post office clerk, found it in a package of foreign mail. He tried to leave it escape but it didn't. Instead it "Gripped" his proboscis and clutched his throat and the handling it gave him was not at all pleasant.

In addition to the above case there are about half a dozen others who have been afflicted with it. It certainly is the worst type of influenza that ever visited this section. It is said to be "catching" so that you had better be on the look out and when you hear a man sneeze avoid him as you would one whom you know has a bill against you in his pocket.

Wanted his Mother.

The following pathetic incident is related by the Erie City Times: "Monday evening's Times stated that brakeman Edward McCready, of the Nickle Plate, had probably received his death wounds by being run over by two cars of his train at North East. The case is one of the most pitiable in railroad history at this point. The young man was on top of his train at North East and when the gale was raging at the rate of 48 miles an hour he was blown from his position and in falling came down with his legs across the rails. He was observed and the train stopped before more than two cars had passed over the unfortunate young man. When he was taken from the rails he seemed to realize that he was fatally injured and said: "I would give all I have ever seen for one glimpse of my mother."

Wedding at Loveville.

On Tuesday, December 24th, a very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Gates, in Loveville, it being the occasion of the marriage of their daughter Emma to Mr. Hayes Dixon, of Warriorsmark, Huntingdon county. Only the relatives and a few intimate friends were invited to be present. At 10.30 the nuptial ceremony was performed by Rev. A. J. Bean, pastor of the Lutheran church. A sumptuous repast was served soon after. Quite a number of useful and valuable presents were received by the bride among which was a chamber suit, large easel and steel engravings, bed clothing, dishes, linen, ornaments, etc. May they live long and enjoy a life of unalloyed happiness is the earnest wish of the DAILY NEWS.

The Weather.

To-day there is a faint breath of winter. Christmas was a veritable spring day. Thursday was as near like a day in April as two pins. It rained, it hailed, it thundered, it lightened and the robin was seen and heard to sing all in the short time of about twenty minutes on Thursday morning. If that is not remarkable will some "Old Remember" step out and tell us what is remarkable.

—Wasn't it lovely on Christmas day?

Robert Shaw, of Huntingdon, Instantly Killed at Lewistown.

Special to the Altoona TRIBUNE:

LEWISTOWN, Pa., December 27.—Robt. Shaw, of Huntingdon, met with a sad and fatal accident at this place last evening. Mr. Shaw, who was over 60 years of age and very deaf, came to Mifflin county with his wife on Tuesday evening to spend a few days with relatives a Logan. Yesterday afternoon he came to town on the Milroy accommodation, intending to take fast line for his home. There is a difference of one hour between the two trains and instead of going directly to the junction, the old gentleman got off at the borough station. Shortly after 3 o'clock he started for the Junction and walking on the track, was within five hundred yards of the station when the shifting engine came spinning down upon him. The whistle was blown and every effort made to warn him of his peril, but in vain. He was struck and instantly killed. The body was cut in twain and the legs severed. The remains were gathered up and taken to the dead house, where an inquest was held at 7 o'clock p m, a verdict in accordance with the above facts being rendered. After the inquest the body was brought to town and placed in charge of Undertaker W. H. Felix, and by him prepared for shipment to Huntingdon. The deceased was for many years sub-division foreman of the Pennsylvania railroad at Spruce Creek, retaining that position until impaired health having forced him to retire.

Pine Glenn Items.

Karthaus bridge, when almost completed, was again taken away by high water.

Miss Nancy Mulhollan was very sick with typhoid fever but we are glad to learn that she is getting better.

While Mr. M. Veidooper was out hunting a stranger came to his home—a very young lady. As she expects to remain she demands a great deal of attention.

Mr. N. Watson has been suffering with rheumatism in the back.

Miss Emma Midlam will have two weeks vacation. She is now in Williamsport visiting her sister.

Miss Jennie Beates, with her sister Annie, who is teaching at Pine Glenn, attended the institute at Bellefonte.

Mr. Frank Brown, from Moshannon, will finish the Laurel Run school.

Rev. Bedford will continue his meeting after Christmas.

There were Christmas trees in both churches in this place. Recitations, etc., were given by the children.

Milesburg Personals.

Mrs. Charles Gardner and daughter Bertha, of Lock Haven, and Mr. Charles Chappel, of Johnstown, spent Christmas with Mr. Reuben H. Smith, now of Huntingdon, but whose parents reside in Milesburg. All will depart for their home soon, but we hope they will come again.

Miss May Stephens and Miss Ray, of Osceola, are visiting their aunts, Misses Sallie and Josephine Reese, in this place

Mr. Peter Irvin and his amiable bride have taken up their abode in Milesburg where they expect to live happily for a time.

Miss Millie Bouse, of Tyrone, is visiting her grandparents, Rev. G. W. Bouse and wife, of this place.

A Christmas Entertainment.

The entertainment held by the Union Sunday school in the school house on Methodist Hill on Christmas evening proved to be quite a success. The exercises were opened by an organ solo, rendered by Miss Ella Coffman, who most skilifully manipulated the keys of the organ. Mrs. Lieb's class represented the birth of Christ, and Miss Hannah Hamilton rendered a solo in which she declared that "The world is growing better every day."

The infant class entertained the audience by singing, and choice recitations and music filled the program. Then the scholars were each one presented with a Christmas treat. Mr. Gentzel's class presented him a handsome Bible and Miss Mame Gentzel presented her teacher with a beautiful cup, saucer and plate, and Mr. Solt the Superintendent, had scarcely finished the presentations when a bugle was heard and Santa Claus entered ladened with bundles, baskets and a flour sack filled with different articles which he presented to each member of the school and from the baskets he distributed nuts and prize boxes through the school. After his departure the choir sang a closing hymn and all departed much pleased with the exercises.

A Murderers Tribute.

A well-written poem entitled "Christmas" from the pen of Charles Cleary, the young man who is in the Clinton county prison for the murder of Philip Paul, has been published in the papers of that county. It contains many beautiful Christmas thoughts on the birth and crucifixion of our Savior, and expresses heartfelt penitence for the unfortunate crime for which he has been convicted. It is truly sad to know that one so young in years, and so bright in intellect, who has been brought up under the influence of a Christian family would ever have been led to commit the terrible deed of murder.

His friends in Renovo have now in circulation a petition praying the court to grant him a new trial. It has already been numerously signed, among the signatures being the names of nearly all the pastors of the churches and leading merchants, business and railroad men in town. They do not, of course, ask the court to grant a new trial for the purpose of releasing him from the penalties of the law, but that his life may be spared and his sentence be made one of imprisonment for a term of years in the penitentiary.

—The editor of this paper has seen the specimens of Art Needlework executed by Mrs. Turner and Miss Gholson, who are now stopping at the Brockerhoff, and they are the most beautiful specimens of handiwork that has ever been on exhibition in this place. Read the new announcement of the ladies' elsewhere in this paper and then go and see their work and you cannot fail to be captivated with it.

—John Downs, supervisor on the Bald Eagle Valley road, and whose home is on north Main street, Tyrone, came in on the passenger train Thursday evening, and as is his habit got off in Tyrone yard while the train was in motion. In some way he missed his footing and got the toes of his right foot under the wheels of the car causing them to be mashed. He was removed to his home and Dr. H. B. Piper sent for, who upon examination found it would be necessary to amputate the great toe. The operation was successfully performed and Friday morning he was getting along very well under the circumstances.

—The statement of the business of all lines of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, east of Pittsburgh and Erie for November, 1889 as compared with the same month in 1888, shows an increase in gross earnings of $631,946, an increase in expenses of $370,934 and an increase in net earnings of $261,012. The seven months of 1889, as compared with the same period of 1888, show an increase in gross earnings of $2,655,185, an increase in expenses of $1,547,862 and an increase in net earnings of $1,109,323. All lines west of Pittsburg and Erie for the eleven months of 1889 show a surplus over all liabilities of $821,124, being a gain as compared with the same period of 1888, of $1,071,558.

Æsop has told us the tale of a mule which, from overfeeding, galloped about and felt gay, saying to himself: "My father, surely, was a high-mettled racer, and I am his own child in speed and spirit." Next day he was sick and weary; he then exclaimed: "I must have made a mistake; my father, after all, could have been only an ass." A man, after eating a good dinner, may feel extravagantly joyous; but next day (I don't mean you to infer he feels like an ass) he is surly and grim, his stomach and liver are sluggish, he is morose, despondent and "out of sorts" generally. For Indigestion, Biliousness and all derangements of the Stomach, Liver and Bowels, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is an unequaled Remedy. Contains no alcohol to inebriate; no syrup or sugar to ferment and derange the digestive processes. It cleanses the system and cures pimples, blotches, eruptions and all Skin and Scalp Diseases. Scrofulous affections, as Fever-sores, Hip-joint Disease, Swellings and Tumors, yield to its superior alterative properties.

is one that promotes digestion, improves the appetite, cleanses the liver, purifies the blood, and stimulates brain and nerves without injurious reaction, and one that may be taken alike by adult or infant. Profane compounds, made of vile rum or bad whiskey, sweetened and flavored, under the titles of bitters, tonics, &c, produce effects far worse than the disease for which they are taken.

Vinegar Bitters is a pure tonic, a nervine without being narcotic, a purifier without poison, a liver tonic without purging, and above all, a life-giving stimulant without alcohol. The only medicine with such powers in the world.

A GENUINE TEMPERANCE BEVERAGE,

far surpassing alcohol in any shape as a tonic it might be called since it stimulates, invigorates and regulates digestion, nutrition, secretion, excretion, respiration, and all the functions whereby life is maintained—we literally take in vitality in spoonsful.

Many of them used by the Indians and the medical profession in the treatment of chills and fevers, rheumatism, catarrh, consumption, neuralgia, headaches, liver complaint, kidney disease, jaundice, gout, piles, boils, skin diseases, &c., &c., too numerous to mention, but easily understood when the action of the Bitters on the vital functions is remembered. Dr. Hensyl's Birthday.

On Monday night next, Dr. Hensyl of Howard, Centre county, one of the best and most noted physicians of this section of the country, will reach the 56th mile stone in his journey through life, and we learn that the occasion is to be made a memorable one in his history. About sixty members of the G A R will participate and the interest of the occasion will be heightened doubtless by thrilling tales of gallant achievements and hairbreadth escapes upon the battle field. The doctor belongs to Howard Post, No. 262, and is a gentleman who has many friends who will wish him joy on the coming anniversary. Perhaps a busier physician than Dr. Hensyl could not be found in this part of the State. He has a wide territory to cover and is constantly on the go.

An Interesting Letter from A Wideawake Howard Correspondent.

Christmas was a busy day in Howard. Roasted turkey, peanuts and candies were devoured in abundance.

The entertainment in the Methodist Episcopal church on Christmas eve was a decided success. The singing, conducted by Wilbur F. Hall, was grand, as was also the recitations by the children. The entertainment held in the Evangelical church on Christmas evening was equally successful.

Frank Smith, with his new wife, arrived on Tuesday at 5 o'clock p. m. He was accompanied by his brother Thomas and wife. The Howard cornet band gave them a lively serenade. The boys played well.

Mr. Blair Hopkins, wife and daughter, who are at present living at Mill Hall, spent Christmas with his parents in Howard. Blair is a first-class musician.

George Wister, at present an employe in the post office department in Washington, is spending his holiday vacation with his family in this place. George, you must remember you are working under a Republican administration.

George Meese, wife and daughter formerly residents of Centre county, but for the last seventeen years living in West Virginia, are at present visiting friends in Howard.

The household goods of Dr. Beck were shipped to Danville on Monday and his family departed on the same day to join the Doctor in his new field of labor. We wish him success.

We are glad to state that Mr. James Lucas, who was confined to his room for some time with sickness, is again able to be on the streets. James is a good hearted fellow.

The 9.27 train on Wednesday evening brought the remains of Mrs. Nathan Atwood from Kansas to be interred in the Packer burying ground, near the residence of J. A. Woodward. The funeral took place on Thursday at 10 a. m.

—The serious accident which occurred at the Market street bridge Williamsport, on Friday afternoon, in which one man lost his life and three others were injured, was a most unfortunate affair. The man whose team and wagon caused the bridge to give way was cautioned not to drive upon it, but he persisted, and the consequence was that a workman was killed, he himself was hurt and his horses were both drowned. There is no use to moralize after such an event has occurred, but surely it does not pay to trifle with danger. Advice is not always good, but results show that the teamster who refused to listen to the warnings of the unfortunate Somers, made the mistake of his life by not heeding a bit of advice.

—The manly man is he who has the courage to endure unmerited insult without resenting it. The bully who is free with his fists is usually a moral coward and certainly his example is one which should never be imitated by one who aspires to the name of gentleman. It is much easier to repay an insult with a blow than to receive it with silence, but it is much less noble: And the fact is that one who is always ready for a pugilistic encounter, who indulges in brutal conduct or language, is not a brave man. We do not mean to advocate non-resistance; the true policy is to pay no heed to insults which can do no harm, and to refuse to fight unless driven to extremity. In the latter event one should take care of himself.—Ex.

—There is now quite a rivalry for the position in the National Guard rendered vacant by the death of Gen. Hartranft. The two leading aspirants and just now the two most talked of are Generals Snowden and Gobin. Just which one will get the appointment is now hard to determine but the chances seem to be rather in favor of General Gobin. Should he be the fortunate man it would undoubtedly prove a creditable appointment.

Our Census District.

The County of Centre is one of the eleven counties which form the Sixth Census District, namely as follows: Bradford, Cameron, Centre, Clearfield, Clinton, Elk, Lycoming, McKean, Potter, Sullivan and Tioga. There are ten census districts in this State, and each district will be under the direct charge of one supervisor. The coming census will be the Eleventh and the Superintendent is Robert P. Porter.

Will Use Our Gallows.

The Centre County Commissioners will borrow the Lycoming county gallows on which to hang Seely W. Hopkins, the double murderer. It is probable that the gallows will remain in Bellefonte until the murderer of Miss Price is made to suffer the penalty of his crime. Governor Beaver is expected to fix the day of Hopkins' death soon.—Williamsport Sun and Banner.

—There was a commotion outside the Episcopal church on Sunday evening that sounded as if the iron fence surrounding it had given away, but on examination it proved to be only one of the gates that had become unhinged and fallen down. When replaced everything was all right again.

FROM THE UPPER REGIONS.

Christmas Festivity—Narrow Escape—Pertinent Personals—Marriages and Other Happenings.

SNOW SHOE Dec 30, '89.

The entertainment at the M. E. church on Christmas night passed off very pleasantly. Santa Claus made his appearance by coming through the church window. After nearly losing his false face he disbursed presents promiscuously, and treated all the children very generously to candy, nuts, oranges, etc. The singing by the infant class was very entertaining and a duet by Miss Lena Roth and Miss Della Budinger deserves special mention.

Last Thursday the winds swept over our mountains almost like a tornado, and Dr. Young came very near losing his life by a falling tree. He was riding on horse back, the noise of the falling tree frightened his steed and after making a couple of quick jumps, fell on his knees. The Doctor jumped to the ground the tree fell but a couple of feet behind them. The horse ran home and, of course, its rider was compelled to walk.

The Misses Annie and Clara Plummer, of Williamsport, Pa., accompanied by their brother, Master Elmer, departed for their home on Wednesday morning after spending a very pleasant week with their Snow Shoe friends. Each of the young ladies took with them a sample piece of coal dug from the mines with their own hands.

Mrs. Walter Scott, accompanied by her six children arrived in Snow Shoe Monday noon after a very tedious voyage on "British Prince" one of the American line steamers. Her husband has been working in the Snow Shoe mines for several months.

Mr. Johnson Haines, the enterprising sexton of the M. E. church, raised enough money among the friends of that denomination to buy some new lamps and burners and now their church is very nicely illuminated.

Mr. Robert Ray, of Bellefonte, assisted in dispoiling a Christmas turkey at the residence of his son-in-law, C. T. Cheesman.

Mrs. Mary Hinton, who has been dadgerously ill for som etime is now getting better.

Mr. Charles Zind is building a new house.

Rev. Morton, of the Snow Shoe Presbyterian church, preached his farewell sermon on Sunday evening.

Have you a pain in the back of your head?
Is your brain all in a frenzy?
Do you gripe and sneeze till your nose is red?
Then you've got the "Influenzy."

Miss Laura Lucas departed on the Monday morning train for West Chester, Pa., where she will attend Normal school.

Joseph Schell, of Tyrone, and Miss Mollie Flynn, of Snow Shoe, were married on Thursday at St. Mary's church, Father Chol performing the ceremony. The happy couple departed for Tyrone on the afternoon train.

And on the same day as above Rev. J W Bedford tied the nuptial knot for Henry L Barger and Miss Nancy Walker both of Pine Glenn, Pa.

A Riot at Snow Shoe Intersection.

On Saturday evening a gang of toughs invaded the telegraph station at Snow Shoe Intersection and created quite a disturbance there which amounted to almost a riot. A young man by the name of Iddings, who, it is said, has been in the penitentiary, state reformatory and other places of punishment, attacked one of the Snyder brothers, the operator of that place, and beat him shamefully dangerously injuring him. Three doctors were in attendance on Sunday. The assaulting party was arrested.

—Harry J. Patterson, a graduate of the State College, now a professor of the agricultural department of the state college of Maryland, is visiting his numerous freinds in the county. Harry has, since his graduation, acquitted himself nobly, and gained for himself a national reputation. To-day a standing invitation, with the promise of a magnificent salary, awaits his response to go to far-off Brazil and take charge of an agricultural station (experimental) for a definite period.

—Four weeks from to-day will begin the week in which Alfred Andrews will be tried for the brutal murder of Miss Clara Price. In the meantime neither the commonwealth nor the defense have been idle and from present appearances the trial will be one of unusual interest. The prisoner, Alfred Andrews, has not borne up under his incarceration as well as Hopkins does. He has lost in flesh, and has grown nervous and dispirited.

—The bride and groom, Lieut. Lyden and wife, have returned from their wedding tour and are now at the groom's home at Beech Creek, where they arrived on Saturday night. They will spend the intervening time until January 15, 1890, visiting friends in this community and on that date will depart for their far-away home in the west—northern Idaho—where the Lieutenant is now stationed with his command.

—The condemned murderer, Hopkins, still continues to bear up with the same display of nerve and fortitude that has all along characterized him. The day for the execution is being delayed longer than was anticipated. When it does come, however, the execution will be a comparatively private one—only the requisite number of persons as required by law will be admitted.

THE OLD AND THE NEW.

1889 Has Passed from Time to Eternity and 1890 Dawns Bright and Promising.

With twelve o'clock at midnight on Tuesday night closed one of the most eventful years that has been known for a long time. It is true there have been no wars—but there have been rumors of wars; there have been no great political struggles, but in South America there has been great agitation in governmental circles. But what this year takes precedence in is the long list of crimes and casualties that are written on the pages of its history. Water, fire and electricity have demonstrated their wonderful power of destructiveness in a not-to-be-mistaken way. The sword and pistol have outraged society and committed unwarrantable depredations, while the hangman's rope has frequently avenged the blood of the innocent. We could fill this entire paper with a list of what has transpired during the past year, and then only have commenced to tell, but we leave that work for historians and rest content in dealing with the town and county.

Nothing of very vital importance has transpired in "Old Centre." It is true it was flood swept on the 1st of June, but it has entirely recovered; it gave an overwhelming majority for prohibition and for that receives the good feeling of all who have the cause at heart. The farmers are satisfied as their crops were very good and bring a fair price. Business has been good and now gives promise of better times than we have had for years. All these things taken into consideration there is not a man in Centre county who, in looking back over the year 1889, can not see much that he can and should be thankful for. Many are the tender memories that are associated with its days, and heartrending are some of the pangs caused by the remembrance of some things it disclosed, but through it all from the lowest to the highest can see innumerable blessings that were daily bestowed and all alike should thank God for his goodness and mercy, and also thank him that we have been permitted to witness the dawning of the year 1890.

How beautiful it has come in, save for a little sunshine. The prospects for the new year are very encouraging. There is evidence of more to be done. Business is better, work is plentier and there is ever reason to believe that 1890 will be a bright year on the pages of future history. With this hope held out and with the wish, kind reader, that everyone of you may share in the good things of this world and that it may be a very prosperous year for you, we wish you, one and all, a very happy New Year.

Medora Henson-Emerson possesses a remarkably pure and even voice, of great compass and power, and wonderful carrying quality. Her first arietta, "The Marvelous work" served to establish her at once in favor of the audience, chorus, and orchestra; and a long and hearty applause followed the high C, which she gave with a power and volume of tone altogether unexpected. Her vocalization is superb, and the florid music of "With Verdure Clad" possesses no obstacle for her. Will be in Bellefonte on Friday night with the "Boston Stars." You should not fail to go and see and hear her.

—About the biggest Christmas present that was given this year—outside of Bellefonte—was that of the N Y C & H R railroad to Mr J P Morgan, of the banking house of Drexel, Morgan & Co. It was a silver and gold dessert service consisting of 295 pieces and manufactured by Tiffany & Co., New York. The cost of this magnificent present was only about $50,000. How cheap a really nice present can be purchased these days!

—Mr. Emerson has won for himself an enviable place among musicians by his masterly performance on the cornet. For wonderful execution and beauty of tone he has no equal. Mr. Emerson will appear in connection with the Boston Stars in the court house, this place, on Friday evening, January 3. Price of admission only 50 cents.

—The biggest man in this country now is John Ward, the base ball player. It took more than half a column in one of the leading journals to tell how he enjoyed his Christmas dinner and what his future intentions, etc., are, and in the same paper only six lines were used to keep us posted on the welfare of our beloved President.

—The Hopkins case will go on record as the best conducted prosecution on the records in Centre county for the last fifty years. Judge Furst has displayed legal abilities which place him at the head of the bar in the state. The case was watched the state over.

—In the mock trial soon to be held for the benefit of the Y M C A gymnasium fund the opposing attorneys will be Speer vs. Quigley, with William Singer, Esq., as His Honor. The case to be tried will likely be murder.

MARRIED.

MINEMYER—GROVE.—On December 24, 1889, at the residence of bride's parents, by Rev. Ed. Hoshour, Mr. J Warren Minemyer and Miss Emma V. Grove, both of Bellefonte, Pa.
